Technology has developed to the point where a person can be placed in a Sleep State: a cross between suspended animation and a drug-induced coma.

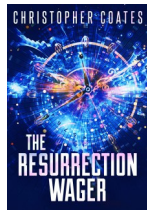

Just as the trial of the new technology is being completed, an unusual comet is discovered approaching Earth, bringing with it radiation that will wipe out most life on the planet. The government builds a sleeper facility to save humankind from extinction.

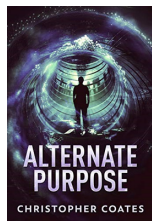

This is the long-awaited sequel to The Ark. Faced with the destruction of most life on Earth, thousands of people are rushed to secret underground shelters to wait out the crisis. No one imagines how long they will be hidden underground.

What will they find when the doors open and see what has become of the outside world?

One courageous group will set off across this strange world to find loved ones they've been separated from for decades

When a man of science and a man of faith develop the ability to move backward in time, there is only one logical place for them to go to demonstrate their new technology. They make a wager about whether or not the resurrection of Jesus really happened and set out to prove it one way or the other. Along the way, there are many obstacles to overcome and challenges from those who want to use this technology for personal gain.

A young man discovers he has an amazing ability and builds his identity around this incredible gift. With just the touch of his hand he can heal any injury. What will he do when he learns that the gift is not from God? Instead, he is just part of a desperate plan to save humanity from an unimaginable disaster.

Tasha Salen is a kind, loving wife and mother. She's trained as a medical professional but secretly awaits the next phone call for her other career. A call that will instruct her who her next target is. The person she is assigned to kill. Unable to deny the thrill of the kill, she slowly and secretly builds her career as an assassin, gladly taking any job they have for her. What will she do when her family is taken by those that want to control her?

After a bizarre murder spree begins in Tucson, detectives Dan Felty and MacKenzie Bell begin investigating the case. They scramble to understand the killer's motives and keep him from killing again. His victims appear to be chosen randomly, and the body count is rising rapidly.

Will a figure from the murderer's past be the key to tracking him down... and can he be stopped before more are killed?
